

In 2016 the Power Service Inc. Completions Division joined the DistributionNOW family to become DistributionNOW Thru Tubing. Our Thru Tubing team combines decades of experience in drill outs and well intervention on both coil tubing units and conventional workover rigs, making us a leader in the industry.

DistributionNOW Thru Tubing offers milling and cleanout services as well as fishing and retrieval. Our trained technicians and fleet of field-ready, enclosed trailers bring mobile shop service directly to your site. Thru Tubing technicians carry a variety of tools and the expertise needed to service most wellsite equipment.

Our focus is not only on providing excellent equipment and service, but also on building long term relationships and open lines of communication with our customers. To that end, we strive to employ only exceptional people who are dedicated to the job and our customers.

We look forward to speaking with you about your next downhole project and how we can help meet your thru tubing and completion needs!

Quality Equipment

DistributionNOW Thru Tubing is committed to providing the customer with a complete line of quality running tools, ranging from mud motors and mills to all types of cased hole fishing equipment. Our motor fleet is a combination of well-established lower ends and power sections from leading providers within the industry. All of our tools are serviced in-house by highly trained shop personnel, ensuring the highest level of quality control possible.

We provide a wide selection of mills or bits, depending upon your application and your specific hole conditions. Mills are manufactured in-house with high quality carbide.

A Commitment to Safety

We are dedicated to maintaining our approved rating with ISNetwork, and we're committed to enforcing safe work conditions, best practices, and procedures. The safety of our employees and customers is our number one priority!

Experienced Technicians

Not every well or application is the same. You need an experienced downhole specialist that can choose the right tools for the job, with the ability to adapt to changing well conditions and anticipate challenges before they appear. Our Thru Tubing team has decades of experience from all major shale plays.

From cleaning out wellbores, to drilling out plug and perf or sleeve systems, to fishing any cased hole environment, our technicians are well trained in the safest and most efficient methods for completing the project at hand.

Engineered Solutions

DistributionNOW Thru Tubing is proud to partner with the University of Wyoming's petroleum engineering faculty to provide more complete solutions for our customers. This collaboration allows us to develop and engineer proactive solutions to enhance our drill out operations.

Our commitment to quality, efficiency, and top-of-the-line service is why DistributionNOW Thru Tubing is the right choice for your downhole and thru tubing needs.
